God's Crucible is a sweeping overview of the dramatic rise of Islam, the formation of something like Christendom in the West, and the subsequent confrontation of those cultures, especially in and around Spain.

God's crucible : Islam and the making of Europe, 570 to ...

God's Crucible points out that the rulers of al-Andalus pursued a policy of civil pluralism permitting a latitude of mores, beliefs and institutions unmatched in the West since Augustan Rome. While Arabic was slowly imposed as the language of law and commerce, no pressure was exerted on the Catholic majority to convert to Islam.

Summary and reviews of God's Crucible by David Levering Lewis

God's Crucible begins with the rise of Islam in the 6th and 7th centuries from the ruins of the conflict between imperial Rome and imperial Persia. This rise, Lewis writes expansively, is nothing short of "the greatest revolution in power, religion, culture, and wealth in history."
